euro dream

You'd be forgiven for thinking you've just landed on a Greek island at Arturo's Rooftop, a whole new floor and concept at Sydney's Woolly Bay Hotel, formerly the Woolloomooloo Bay Hotel. Local firm Luchetti Krelle is behind the gorgeous design, along with the fit-outs of the two lower floors. Peach and terracotta hues, lavish use of stone and a canopy of latticed bamboo create an ideal environment for the venue's tapas-style shared menu and extensive cocktail list.
